EVENT ENGAGEMENT

One remarkable show debut, endless momentum for success.

Why PTXPO? Why Now?

We asked. Our community responded. And we not only listened, we leapt into action to successfully present a dynamic large-scale, in-person trade show for plastics processing pros across the entire supply chain.

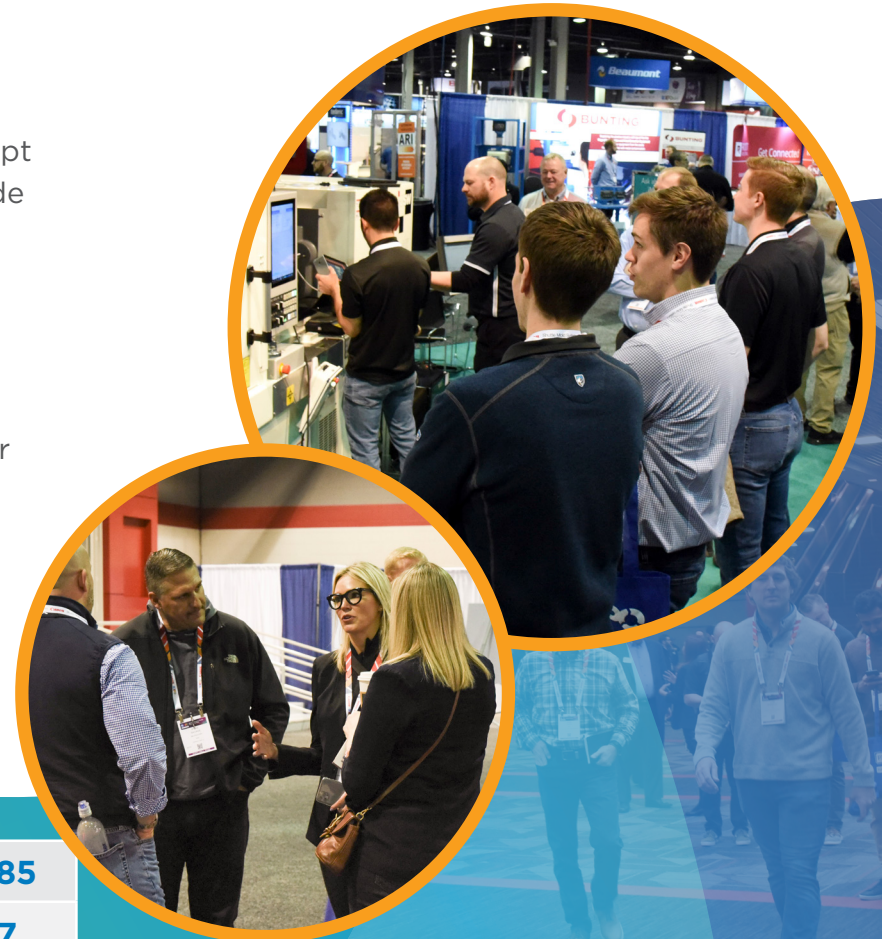

After more than a decade of being away from the heart of North American manufacturing, our industry successfully united once again in Chicago for three days of discovering new technology solutions, sharing business and industrial knowledge and making powerful partner connections. All to move the world of plastics manufacturing forward.

This is just the beginning. As we build on the excitement and support our industry showed for our inaugural year, PTXPO's forward spin is fast in motion. Join us.
